SUMMARY

I'm a motivated and creative Computer Science student with a strong interest in frontend development, especially using the Angular framework. I enjoy solving problems, building clean and responsive user interfaces, and constantly learning new technologies to improve my skills. I'm confident in my technical abilities and passionate about creating smooth, user-friendly web experiences. I'm currently looking for an opportunity to gain hands-on experience, contribute to real projects, and grow as a frontend developer.

PROJECTS

Share Recipes web site

Sep 2024 - Oct 2024

Technologies Used: Angular, TypeScript, HTML, CSS, BootStrap

- Developed a "Share Recipes" website where users can share, browse, and rate recipes.
- Built dynamic pages using Angular to handle user interactions and display recipe data.
- Allowing users to create accounts, log in, and save their favorite recipes.
- Designed a responsive and visually appealing interface, ensuring the website works seamlessly across all devices.
- Focused on code maintainability, performance optimization, and accessibility.

Admin Dashboard for E-Commerce Website

Oct 2024 - Jan 2025

Technologies Used: Angular, TypeScript, HTML, CSS, JavaScript, JWT Authentication, REST API

- Collaborated with a team to develop an admin-only dashboard for a real e-commerce website.
 - Designed and implemented role-based authentication using JWT tokens to ensure secure access for administrators only.
 - Built dynamic dashboard components for managing products, orders, and users.
 - Integrated RESTful APIs to fetch and update data in real time.
 - Used Angular's routing and guards to restrict access and improve app security and performance.
